Dear Dr. Gregg:

Some while ago, I read your article in HARPERS on 'When to change jobs and why'. Do you happen to have any 'reprint' copies of your article? I would like to read it again, and show it to some of my friends.

Would you be receptive to a suggestion that it be reprinted in a general scientific journal like Science or the American Scientist? I remember the article as a very provocative discussion, and one that had helped me to a more realistic understanding of 'promotion' from science into administration.

Yours sincerely,
